WHITEPAPER

WHAT ARE CRYPTOCURRENCIES?

Cryptocurrencies are means of exchange, made in a centralized or decentralized manner. But for that to happen, blockchain technology and encryption are used. After all, these artificial intelligences ensure the validity of all transactions performed. In addition to creating new currency units.

MEET VELOX

Velox is a token produced for e-commerce. Its main objective is to end the difficulties of the online market. For example, the payment methods offered by companies and delays in receiving profits.

However, with the cryptocurrency market you have the power to increase your trading. In addition, the ease and accessibility of products grows. Therefore, sales become more and more uncomplicated.

WHY HAVE VELOX?

We will be the biggest network for buying and selling goods with cryptocurrencies!

If you are an investor in cryptocurrencies and are interested in carrying out your investments with less risk, this is the time. Having a Velox will give you this opportunity!

We created a token with ballast for our online store thinking about your applications. It gives you more security to invest in a market that is constantly growing.

REDUCE YOUR TRANSACTION COSTS

More profit for your business!

Typically, transaction fees carried out by e-commerces are passed on to consumers with higher prices. Therefore, the entrepreneur's profit is diminished. For example, brands that process their payments through Stripe or Square pay between 3% to 5% on each transaction.

This high value harms your financial return. After all, if you reduce the value of the product, for example, you end up not valuing what you sell. On the other hand, if the price rises, you run the risk of many not buying and being left with a high number of stock.

However, when these trades are carried out using cryptocurrencies, they are simpler and the value is lower! The fee for each transaction is 1.99%. In other words, a big difference when calculating a brand's profits, isn't it?

Annually, this fee generates for a brand an average of up to $5 million in online sales! A greater profit than when transactions are carried out through traditional e-commerces.

HAVE A NEW CUSTOMER BASE

Expand your customer network!

Even with more and more advanced technology, there are consumers who are very traditional. Therefore, they are not adept at using credit card and banks. There are those who still like to keep their money under their mattress.

Even though these consumers are in the minority, offering them a new type of payment, in cryptocurrencies, will show a new path for them to enter electronic commerce. This will give them a new opportunity to make their purchases in an efficient and completely safe way.

This consumer group is expected to grow as cryptocurrency gains more adoption. However, you will already be one step ahead, as you will have already gained the loyalty of this audience.

The positive point is that you expand your consumer network. By conquering this audience, you will have loyal customers to your brand.

E-VELOX

LOWER RISK OF FRAUD

Say goodbye to lack of security!

According to Banco Pan, in the first half of 2021 fraud attempts in online purchases grew 32%. This in relation to 2020. The value corresponds to R$2.6 billion, compared to R$121.3 million in the same period last year.

It's not news to anyone that attempted scams and robberies are increasingly constant in the virtual environment.

After all, different virtual scams are invented every day. What makes the consumer insecure to make their purchases, using their data or credit cards.

Fraudulent returns and other types of chargebacks harm a brand's bottom line. Making your profit drop and even your credibility being compromised. That's because when such an incident occurs, a customer stops consuming. In addition, his view of his brand is shared with others, which undermines his popularity.

However, the cryptocurrency has been receiving a standing ovation by millions of people. After all, it has helped to reduce the number of frauds in the digital market. That's because the technology that powers cryptocurrency has the power to eradicate charges that are suspected of fraud forever.

By using this system in your business, your brand will be completely safe. Therefore, it is a way to show your consumer that he will have peace of mind and protection to make his purchases without worrying about possible fraud. That's because we work daily so that this problem doesn't reach your negotiations!
